Objective of the event	1. Raise awareness – Get participants and onlookers talking about HIV prevention, testing, and the importance of ending stigma. 2. Show solidarity – Demonstrate a visible, united front of support for people living with HIV and their families 3. Amplify local voices – Invite people living with HIV to speak briefly at key points along the chain, giving the event a personal, powerful face.
Outcome of the event	- Higher awareness – Passers-by and social-media followers learn key facts about HIV transmission, testing, and treatment. - Reduced stigma – Seeing a diverse crowd united in support helps normalize conversations about HIV. - Increased testing uptake – QR codes or on-site testing booths often drive a spike in people checking their status within the next week. - Community solidarity – Participants feel a stronger sense of belonging and are more likely to volunteer or donate to local AIDS organizations.
